President Mel Cornett congratulated the various committees for their good work during the year and then announced that the board of directors recommended that 4 per cent share dividends be paid and a 20 per cent participating patronage dividend. The board also recommended that League dues of $1 per member be assessed; the committee be given authority to borrow money if needed from Alberta Central at 6 1/2 per cent interest and that $200 be turned over to the Building Fund, $250 to the Educational Fund and $976 be placed in undivided earnings. The membership approved the resolutions.

Peterson, representative of CUNA Mutual Insurance Society of Calgary, spoke on the history and philosophy of Credit Unions, and the benefits members enjoyed by belonging to an active Credit Union body. He stated that in Canada and the United States, there were 26,500 branches in operation with a membership of 19 million and assets totalling $114 billion.

Mr. Peterson attempted to show members how they could borrow more at less cost from Credit Unions than at other banking houses and how they would gain more interest in Credit Union depositors in high interest paying trust companies.

Both speakers were thanked for their talks after which an evening of dancing was held.

Father and Son Banquet Enjoyed

Terry Whiteley, Chief Warden, of the Alberta Junior Forest Wardens, gave an impressive talk at the Coleman Junior Wardens' father and son banquet, held in the Coleman United Church club rooms. The event was attended by over 40 Junior Forest Wardens and their fathers.

Mr. Whiteley gave an interesting resume of the organization of Junior Wardens in Alberta, and with the aid of provincial map, showed how the groups have mushroomed all over the province.

The forest training has become such an attractive program for young lads that in a number of cases where the groups already young ladies have become interested and Girl Forest Guide groups have been organized and are functioning successfully.

Efforts are presently underway to try to organize a one week Girl Forest Guide camp this summer, similar to the one held for the Junior Forest Wardens. The camps are well supervised and provide excellent training as well as an interesting break for the young people, who return to their homes, said Mr. Whiteley "in a better physical and mental condition."

Mr. Whiteley showed movies and colored slides of Alberta summer camps which emphasized the activities experienced by the Wardens attending them. While showing the slides, Mr. Whiteley described how the camps are organized, the daily schedules, discipline, duties of the various work parties and the recreation youths enjoy. Being under the watchful eye of trained, experienced men.

Leaders from the summer camps are chosen.

Mr. Whiteley stressed the need for parents to take an active interest in the Junior Forest Wardens group to aid the young people in their interest in learning Forest Conservation and become useful citizens.

Mr. Whiteley commended Supervisor John Dean and Assistant Supervisor Ed Dase for the fine work they alone were doing in keeping alive and training the Coleman Wardens.

He urged fathers and mothers to form a Wardens' Council to develop an active policy for the local lads and to help them in their efforts.

Supervisor John Dean called on 11 of the 42 Coleman Wardens present and they were presented with badge awards for their accomplishments in various courses they successfully completed during the past term.

The 13 members of the Coleman Junior Forest Wardens were presented with the course award badges by Terry Whiteley.

Wardens who received awards were Ken Dase, G. Coccione, Vito DiPinto, Alan Spievak, Gordon Marconi, Tim Pitt, Douglas Uskaski, Gary Nelson, Larry Nelson, Ron Niemeier, Laurie Williams, George Cembrowski and Karl Neddo.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

"The Bitch-Goddess Success"

J. M. Keith, president of Imperial Tobacco Company, has warned students of Sir George Williams University that big business is not looking for young graduates who worship the bitch-goddess of success. He feels that the squalid cash interpretation put on the word success is our national disease.

When I read what the Imperial president had said I felt like shouting hallelujah!

Keith went on to say what is wanted. He spelled out nine attributes required in successful businessmen for this modern world. For the information of students I repeat them here:

- 1—He has a knowledge of his business and business generally.
- 2—He has an ability to handle and inspire people.
- 3—He has an ability to organize for effective action.
- 4—He has communication skills.
- 5—He has controlled ambition.
- 6—He has energy.
- 7—He has a great desire to know and learn more about all things that affect humans and their society.
- 8—He has integrity.
- 9—He has wisdom.

In my opinion, if more Canadian tycoons would give forth with similar straight talk, the business community would enjoy a better reputation. Too many young men get through school today, imbued with the idea that to be a success in business, big business in particular, they must sell their souls. The sooner they discover nobody wants to buy their souls, the better. Business needs men of integrity, and it needs them badly—complete, well-rounded men, with strong spiritual as well as material values. Big business has taken strong criticism in late years, and sometimes has deserved it. It could win its way back into public favor if it had more leaders like J. M. Keith. And he isn't just talking. His company has often aligned itself with those who champion good community causes. In Manitoba, his company has on more than one occasion, contributed generously to the arts, without seeking undue commercial returns.

Big business appeals to educators to provide not a bunch of young yes-men, but rather well-rounded individuals with plenty of personal integrity and the will to achieve.

White Cane Week
February 6 to 12

"The good eye health of every person in Canada has long been a concern of the C.N.I.B.," said A. N. Magill, managing director of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind. He was discussing the decision of his organization and The Canadian Council of the Blind to devote White Cane Week, their annual education period, to the preservation of sight.

Since 1962, the C.N.I.B. has developed the E. A. Baker Foundation for Prevention of Blindness to provide scholarships and fellowships to ophthalmologists and their allied services for research, equipment and other facilities not available through regular channels.

"Through this service to doctors, we hope to contribute to the eye health of the nation," Mr. Magill said. Working under a Baker Foundation grant, one of eleven made during the past year, an oculist discovered a new lesion of the cornea which is affecting up to 80 per cent of all males over forty in the Canadian Arctic. His discovery points the need for a constructive eye care program in the Far North.

The C.N.I.B. also takes part in glaucoma surveys on a community basis to detect this disease in its early stages. "We estimate that 100,000 Canadians over forty years of age have glaucoma today and don't know it because of its painless attack on sight," the managing director said.

Working with Industrial Accident Prevention Associations and Workmen's Compensation Boards, the C.N.I.B. operates the Wise Owl Club of Canada to encourage industrial employees to wear safety glasses. "Although 500 plants hold charters in the club each year more than 300,000 eye accidents occur in industry alone," Mr. Magill explained. He urged that we use recognized safety rules at work and at home and seek medical aid immediately when an accident happens. For the over forties, an eye examination every few years is a safeguard of good vision. "Remember," said Mr. Magill, "your eyes must last a lifetime."

Polio Vaccine Now Available

Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine is now available, free of charge, to all Albertans who have completed the series of three Salk polio injections, according to the Hon. Dr. J. Donovan Ross, Alberta Minister of Health.

Qualifying adults and children may obtain the treatment from City Health Departments and local Health Units. Also, for the first time, the Sabin vaccine will be available in the Fort McMurray, La Crete and Wabaskau areas through the Municipal Nursing Service.

The Sabin vaccine is more than just a booster—it also prevents those protected by it from becoming carriers of the polio virus. Treatment consists of two drops of the vaccine on a piece of lump sugar being taken by the applicant, followed by a similar dose six weeks later.

Albertans are urged to protect themselves and their families by obtaining this final stage of treatment against polio infection.

Those who have yet to complete their Salk injections should do so immediately.

Canadian Legion National Convention In Montreal

OTTAWA, Ont. — Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten opens the Royal Canadian Legion's 21st National Convention in Montreal April 17th.

An estimated 1400 delegates representing 275,000 members will attend the six-day meeting at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel.

Lord Mountbatten will officially open the convention on the evening of April 17th. He will also address the first business session on the morning of April 18th.

In some respects the convention will be the most important in the Legion's 40-year history. One of the main topics of discussion will be the Legion's role in Canada's second century. A Legion Centennial fund of $1,000,000 is now being raised to perpetuate the organization's future.

Another item of major importance will be a discussion of assistance to veterans in emerging Commonwealth countries.

Lord Mountbatten is expected to outline conditions existing amongst Commonwealth veterans. At present the Legion contributes $12,000 a year to the British Commonwealth Ex-Services' League.

About 250 resolutions are expected on topics ranging from veterans' legislation to track and field and the Canadian flag.

The last Legion convention in Montreal was in 1962.

Measles Vaccine Now Available

The Hon. J. Donovan Ross, the Minister of Health, has announced that measles vaccine will now be available for all children in Alberta who are between three months and three years of age, and who have not had the disease. The measles vaccine will be given at clinics to be held throughout the province by City Health Departments, Health Units and Municipal Nursing Services.

Measles vaccine has now been in use in North America on a private basis for two and a half years, and has been shown to be a safe and effective way of preventing measles. Contrary to popular belief, measles is not just a simple childhood disease, but one which can have serious consequences. In 1964 in Alberta, nine children died as a result of measles, and many others were made seriously ill.

Dr. Ross said that the age group from three months to three years had been selected to receive the vaccine since children in this age group are likely to become seriously ill as a result of measles.

Alberta is the first province to undertake a program of providing measles vaccine to all young children. It is estimated that 80,000 children will be eligible to attend the clinics.

The schedule recommended is three doses of killed vaccine one month apart followed seven months later by a dose of live measles vaccine. Health Department officials said that this schedule provided the best protection for the child and at the same time the least reaction from the vaccine.

Killed and live vaccines have been used in combination before in the polio vaccination program where a series of Salk injections, a killed vaccine, is followed by the use of Sabin vaccine (a live vaccine).

Auto Insurance Backs Road Safety Work

A cheque for $50,000, of which half initially will be earmarked to assist in training teachers for high school driver education, was presented Monday in Ottawa by the All Canada Insurance Federation to the Canadian Highway Safety Council.

Merlin Donald of Montreal, the president of the Federation, presented the cheque to the Council's general chairman, Keith H. MacDonald, also of Montreal, during CHSC's series of week-end meetings.

On behalf of the automobile insurance industry, the Federation has sponsored the teacher-training program for several years. Since CHSC assumed administration of the program in 1961, it has qualified 695 high school teachers in driver education.

Mr. Donald said, "Driver education is progressing across Canada, but it must increase with greater speed. With some 300,000 young men and women receiving driver licences each year, the need for them to know the art of driving is vital. The auto insurance industry assists in this way so teachers may be available in all parts of Canada to give driver instruction courses in high schools thus enabling the young people to anticipate 60 years of skillful driving."

He added: "Teaching them the mechanics of driving is not enough—teaching good driver attitude is all important. That is why driver training courses given to teachers through this grant feature 30 hours in the classroom in addition to time behind the wheel."

Letter to the Editor

1386 Northmount Dr.,

Jan. 3, 1966.

Dear Tom:

You are putting the wrong address on my letters or should I say, paper. You put 1286—I don't live there. The postman wrote on the cover, which I am enclosing for me to write and tell you my correct address.

I wish you would put a little note in the paper and thank the Lions Club for me. They are the only ones that sent me away with a little gift. They had me to supper and presented me with a nice wallet. I am not a member of their club, but sure appreciate it.

Say "hello" to your wife and the best to you also. People in Calgary are sure nice. So are my new superiors. Lots of time off. It appears as though they appreciate me. Wonderful life.

Say "hello" to everyone in Coleman for me. I love them all.

TV TALK

VIEWING HIGHLIGHTS FOR THE COMING WEEK

FEBRUARY 12th - 18th

An intimate look at the cost of greatness — at the self-discipline, single-mindedness, hard physical work and never ending aiming for perfection required of an outstanding artist, will be offered on CBC-TV's Show of the Week, February 14th at 9 p.m.

Entitled "This Is Rudolph Nureyev", the program is a portrait of the dancer filmed during his appearance with Britain's Royal Ballet at the 1964 Festival of Two Worlds in Spoleto, Italy.

Considered probably the finest male ballet dancer in the world today, Nureyev thrills the most sophisticated audiences with almost unbelievable leaps and pirouettes. Even his stillnesses are incredibly elegant and graceful. He won't be 28 until St. Patrick's Day, but already the stamp of greatness is upon him.

The Sixties' subject, that same Monday night, will be Jean Drapeau, the unflagging Mayor of Montreal. Drapeau, who in 1964, at age 38, became the youngest man ever to hold the office of Mayor of Montreal, will be interviewed by Peter Desbarats, a Montreal Star columnist and author, about his administration of the city and his plans for the future. That's on "The Sixties", Monday, February 14, at 10 p.m.

Two other Montreal men are the subjects of National Film Board productions to be seen on Wednesday night, February 16 at 9:30.

The first film "Ladies and Gentlemen, Mr. Leonard Cohen" offers an introduction to one of Canada's most celebrated contemporary poets, a man of many faces, who is shown as a standup comic addressing a group of university students, as a profound young man in conversation with friends and making the rounds of favorite haunts in Montreal.

The second film, "Legault's Place", is about a quiet, unpolished individualist who wanted nothing from life except to be left in peace to live with his memories in the familiar comfort of his aging cabin. However, progress and society have other ideas, and hope to evict him.

A unique TV report on mental health, showing for the first time an actual family undergoing therapy, will be presented on The Public Eye, Tuesday, February 15th at 10:30 p.m. Prepared by the National Educational Network in the United States, the film focuses attention on a middle class New England family with problems like these of many other families.

The program has been described by reviewers as "one of the most gripping emotion dramas of reality that TV has had the privilege to present."

The major entertainment event of the TV week should be the variety show Wednesday on Bob Hope Theatre. The inimitable comic will host a star-studded array of talent including Danny Kaye, the gorgeous Jill St. John, Martha Raye, the Righteous Brothers and Les Brown and his Band of Renown. The fun gets underway on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m.

Cote and Mr. Bellrose and floor polisher, Mrs. Pawlyk. The next bingo night will be held on Feb. 11 when besides the regular prizes a $200 cash jackpot will be offered for the first blackout in 52 numbers.

Wawchuk Family To Leave

William Wawchuk, plant foreman for Saraloga at Coleman has this month been transferred to Fort St. John where he will be working in the fields of instrumentation and automatic controls for West Coast Transmission on two new gas plants. Mr. Wawchuk will leave here this month for his new post and his wife and four children will leave later. The family have been residents of Coleman for the past four and a half years and came here from Whitecourt.

Coleman Man Is Injured

Tony Kuz sustained painful injuries January 28th when his station wagon crashed into the side of the Allison Creek bridge, west of Coleman.

Mr. Kuz was returning from his work in Fernie Friday evening, when the mishap occurred. He received fractured ribs, bruises, cuts and abrasions, and is a patient in the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital.

The car was extensively damaged.

United Church Tea To Be Held

The ladies of St. Paul's United Church will hold a Valentine Tea on Saturday, February 12 from 2 to 5 p.m. A pantry table and candy table are to be featured at the tea. All are welcome to attend the tea in the United Church club rooms.

Employment Picture In Pass Good

Terry Robertson, manager of the National Employment office in Blairmore, stated the employment picture in the Crows Nest Pass is good.

Due to a shortage of suitable labor in the area, the Blairmore NES is having difficulty locating qualified applicants to fill job vacancies. Discounting workers on temporary layoffs due to machinery break-down or adverse weather there are approximately 100 males seeking employment. This number includes about 60 elderly males who are seeking temporary employment.

Operating coal mines in the Pass are continuing on a full employment basis with no experienced mine workers unemployed.

NES reports the lumbering industry has been operating at near full capacity with some time lost due to heavy snow conditions. There is also an evident shortage of qualified mill and logging workers.

Construction work was curtailed in the Pass area during January, due to inclement weather, stated the NES official, but improved weather has enabled workers to return to their jobs.

There has been no demand for female workers although there are a number of fully experienced applicants in this group seeking full or part time employment.

In the Fernie area officials report business to be very good. Proposed industrial expansion will probably result in an acute shortage of workers this spring.

On the whole, stated Mr. Robertson, the general outlook for the area remains very encouraging.

ALBERTA JUNIOR CITIZEN OF THE YEAR BULLETIN:

THORSBY BOY HONORED FOR SAVING COUSIN

It was November 21, 1964 when a near-fatal incident occurred near the home of thirteen-year old Tim Alenius. His sister Linda and cousin Pat Wickstrom were skating. In his eagerness, Pat skated out too far. Suddenly, the ice cracked and Pat fell into the icy water of Pigeon Lake.

He could not climb out. Linda skated furiously for her home to bring help, but her father's repeated efforts to reach Pat were prevented because the ice kept cracking.

Then young Tim came into view. Quickly sizing up the situation, he crawled out to the exhausted Pat and caught him by the hand.

He inched even closer, grasped the collar of Pat's jacket, and slowly pulled him onto solid ice. Then Mr. Alenius took over with towels, blankets and hot water.

We congratulate Tim. Our thanks to Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Our special thanks to Howard Bowes, Editor of the Ladue Representative and to Tim's nominator, William Grasluk of Thorsby.
